Message from Bro. Mike Henry

January 29, 2012

"You have too many men for me to deliver [the enemy] into [your] hands. Anyone who trembles with fear may turn back and leave [the mountain]" (Judges 7:2-3). From what we can tell from God's word to Gideon, the Lord wants to do more than deliver us; he wants to deliver the enemy into our hands. He wants to give us power over the things that torment us. It doesn't matter how small and insignificant we seem; our victory is not dependent on our size but on the size of our God.

One of the greatest hindrances to such an overflowing life is fear—fear that God may not be there for us when we get out there on the front lines. It is that same fear that caused the Israelites to harden their hearts and refuse to enter the Promised Land. God just wasn't big enough for them. They didn't trust his heart.

If God is calling you to the mountain, take your place on the front lines with full confidence that your God really can (and will) beat up their god.
